

2018 SciTech Lecture Series

Signals from the Future: Creating the Innovation Workforce presented by

Dr. Gary M. Green

President, Forsyth Tech

Thursday, December 6
4 p.m.

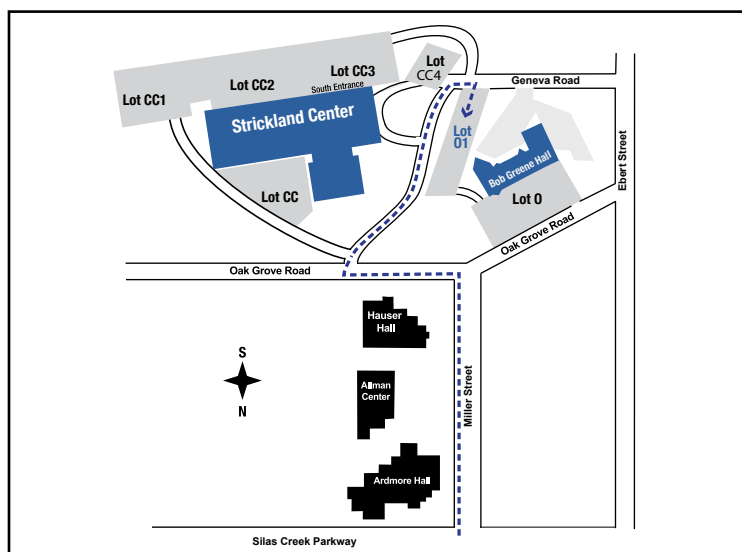

Strickland Auditorium

Robert L. Strickland Center

Forsyth Tech Main Campus

2100 Silas Creek Parkway, Winston-Salem, N.C. 27103

Enter campus on Miller Street and go to the end of the street. Turn left onto Oak Grove Road and then turn right into the first drive.

To reserve a seat at this event:

Mary Flournoy: 336.757.3812, mflournoy@forsythtech.edu

Russ Read: 336.734.7651, rread@forsythtech.edu

Dr. Gary M. Green has been President of Forsyth Technical Community College since 2001. Under Dr. Green's leadership, Forsyth Tech has become a national leader in technology-based workforce development. The college is the home of the National Center for the Biotechnology Workforce and developed the first nanotechnology associate degree program in N.C. Forsyth Tech was chosen by the Manufacturing Institute one of four community colleges nationally to model advanced manufacturing skills standards endorsed by the National Association of Manufacturers. The College is designated a Center of Academic Excellence and East Central U.S. regional center by the National Security Agency and Department of Homeland Security. Dr. Green has worked with major workforce training initiatives with such companies as Boeing, Reynolds American, HanesBrands, Siemens, and Caterpillar. He is a frequent presenter on workforce development and community college issues regionally, nationally, and internationally.